

Table

The table has an elegant profile that emphasizes beauty through its exposed parts. It is an audacious mix of glass, metal and wood with a very chic and sober look. Each element accomplishes a certain function: metal accessories support the top while sitting on the spines that connect to the central beam that supports the whole structure and leans on two angled trestles.

The white table can be combined with any tabletop, from a simple sheet of white frosted glass to a wooden top. The large white frosted glass top gives it a certain lightness supplemented by maple wooden feet. The table can be adapted to satisfy wide range of needs, at home and in the office.
